

MS01 VT09 Ongoing Conditions

[Music]

Women who have pre-existing medical conditions can still have a healthy pregnancy and delivery. We just want to make sure that you get in and see your doctor regularly so we can optimize your medical care and optimize the baby's.

So, we want to understand if there's elements of hypertension or diabetes.

If you're overweight or obese.

Even depression and anxiety. Those are considered high-risk conditions.

If those elements are controlled prior to conception, it means a healthier outcome.

The benefit of the pre-conception visit is we can see what things we can modify so that they can have a more healthy pre-conception and then pregnancy period and post-partem too.
